WW DURANT RAQUETTE LAKE LUNCHEON CRUISE AND THE HISTORIC GREAT CAMP SAGAMORE

The Great Camp Sagamore was constructed by William West Durant on Sagamore Lake between 1895 and 1897. Prior to Sagamore, William Durant constructed Camp Pine Knot (purchased by Collis P. Huntington and now the Huntington Memorial Outdoor Education Center) on Raquette Lake and Camp Uncas (once owned by J.P. Morgan) on Lake Mohegan. All three camps are still in use today.

*Join us for an afternoon buffet luncheon cruise with a historic commentary.
Breathtaking natural beauty. There is no other place in the world like the Adirondacks.
The best way to enjoy beautiful Raquette Lake is from the deck of the W.W. Durant.
Cool breezes. Breathtaking scenery. Fascinating history. Scrumptious food.*

*A visit to Raquette Lake is like a step back in time. From the 1870s through the mid-1930s, steam boating and railroading were a way of life for this community and indeed to the whole area.
The Raquette Lake Navigation Co., with the custom-built vessel the W.W. Durant, continues this exciting tradition.*

The W.W. Durant captures the ambience of an opulent by-gone era, surrounding one with wainscoting, stained and etched glass, gleaming brass, rich carpeting, and polished oak while at the same time offering the convenience and comfort of modern amenities.

Donna Pohl, husband Captain Dean, their two children, and their staff welcome you aboard their family-owned and operated vessel. Built by Captain Pohl, the Durant weighs 57 tons, measures 24-by-60 feet, and is licensed to carry 100 passengers.
